Willow Pattern Walkabout / Paul Rigby & Kerman Ward

Hong Kong : Earnshaw Books, 2011

151p. ; 30cm.

ISBN-13: 9789881866714

$ 42.00

Unexpectedly in 1958, an irreverent British journalist and Australian cartoonist duo were granted visas to visit Communist China at its most closed and inscrutable. They went, they saw, and they produced one of a picture of China at a key moment in its history, still feeding off the exhilaration of the creation of "People's China" in 1949, and full of optimism and blind idealism

Tales of Old Shanghai: A Scrapbook of Words and Images Bringing to Life the Glorious Past of China's Greatest City / Graham Earnshaw
Hong Kong : Earnshaw Books, 2008
149p. ; 21cm.
ISBN-13: 9789881762115
$ 22.00

The old Shanghai was a rich and cosmopolitan mixture of East and West. This book provides a glimpse into that world with a mish-mash of photos, newspaper clippings, cartoons and writings to bring back to life those far-off days.

There has never been a place like Shanghai -- the layers and depth of richness that the city possesses is extraordinary. This book attempts to give a feel for the world of Old Shanghai. It is not a history book in the usual sense of the term. There is no need to start at page one and read through to the end. It is a jumble of items which evoke the different eras of Old Shanghai.

Stateless in Shanghai / Liliane Willens
Hong Kong : Earnshaw Books, 2011
x. 311p. ; 21cm.
ISBN-13: 9789881815484
$ 22.00

Born in Shanghai to Jewish Russian parents who fled the Bolshevik Revolution, Liliane Willens is a "stateless" girl in the world's most cosmopolitan city. But when the Far East explodes in conflict, the family's uncertain status puts them at risk of being stranded, or worse. Stateless in Shanghai recounts Willens' life and trials in a China collapsing under the weight of foreign invaders and civil war

Hadley: A Novel / Nick Macfie
Hong Kong: Earnshaw Books, 2011
197p. ; 21cm.
ISBN-13: 9789881909091
$ 19.95

British journalist Hadley Arnold, based in Hong Kong, is employed by a mysterious American "casting agent" to help destroy the reputation of an actor tipped to become the next James Bond. With only his questionable ethics and worse instincts to guide him, his quest takes him from sleazy bars in Hong Kong to deadly beaches in Sri Lanka. It's a tough job. Even for the man with the golden quote.

In 1955, Felicity Foster-Carter arrived in Singapore to teach Scripture and do pastoral work in mission schools. Over the years her work expanded into welfare until she was appointed to manage firstly an Anglican and then an inter-church welfare organization. Felicity's life is full of adventurous encounters in Singapore and Sarawak. Her work supports those on the fringes of society, and this book includes moving descriptions of her ministering in prisons, helping girls with drug addictions.

The Dancing Girls: A History of Early India / Balaji Sadasivan

Singapore: ISEAS Publishing, 2011

313p. ; 27cm.

ISBN-13: 9789814311670 (HB)

$ 64.90

Indian influence travelled beyond its shores to Southeast Asia, China, Korea and Japan. The Angkor Wat, Borobudur and Prambanan temples reflect the cultural impact of the early Indian Diaspora. The famous Chinese monk Xuanzang who journeyed to Nalanda to study at that great University wrote extensively about India.

This book will kindle interest in research on tracing the origins of the Indian Diaspora and the ancient ties that linked India to the rest of the world.

Serving A New Nation: Baey Lian Peck's Singapore Story / Ooi Kee Beng

Singapore: ISEAS Publishing, 2011

xiv. 141p. ; 22cm.

ISBN-13: 9789814345422 (HB)

1. Baey, Lian Peck
2. Businessmen – Singapore – Biography
3. Singapore – Officials and employees – Biography

$ 36.90

The story of Dr Baey Lian Peck should be well known, but it is not. Not even among Singaporeans, and especially not among the young. This tells us a lot about a Singapore caught in pathological haste and prone towards ignoring values that do not add to the financial bottom line. The innovativeness of Dr Baey not only made him a very wealthy man before he was forty, it also made him an indispensable actor in the implementation of urgently constructed national policies. Political leaders such as Dr Toh Chin Chye, Lim Kim San, Chua Sian Chin, and Dr Goh Keng Swee picked him to solve pressing problems such as skyrocketing inflation in the early 1970s, the crisis in prisoner ward in the late 1970s, and the drug addiction epidemic in that same latter period. His one condition for taking on public positions was that he should not be paid. It was exactly this independent trait that made him so highly effective. This book tells his amazing life story, taking us into a surprising world where the qualities that make a good entrepreneur are exactly what make a good public servant, as long as he remains unbound by the bureaucracy.

British Policy and the Chinese in Singapore, 1939 to 1955: The Public Service Career of Tan Chin Tuan / Lee Su Yin

Singapore: Talisman Publishing Pte. Ltd., 2011

xxiv. 176p. ; 23cm.

ISBN-13: 9789810866679

$ 26.00

British Policy and the Chinese in Singapore, 1939 to 1955 examines British policies towards the Chinese prior to self government and eventual independence. Focussing on the public service career of Tan Chin Tuan, this new book analyses the ways in which the colonial authorities tried to maintain law and order during a period of major political transformation. The public service role played by Tan Chin Tuan is covered in detail and demonstrates the critical role he played in the peaceful route to self rule in Singapore.

Colonial History and Territorial Issues in Africa and Latin America is an editorial collection of papers presented at the Twenty-First World Congress of the International Political Science Association in Santiago, Chile in July 2009. This book presents useful insights on past and present territorial issues in Africa and Latin America that have not received much attention in the extant literature. This is, in fact, the first book published in Korea on territorial disputes in Africa and Latin America.

$ 55.00

Gyeongju is often called 'a museum without walls'. Not only are relics scattered evenly over the entire city, they can be easily found in whatever area you dig. There is probably no other city or region in Korea in which cultural properties are so heavily concentrated; there are 33 National Treasures, the most important type of relic, as well as 83 Treasures. There are also 77 preserved historic sites, over 316 designated cultural properties and hundreds of old tombs.

Living on the Roof of the World / Jin Zhiguo

Beijing: New World Press, 2011

236p. ; 24cm.

ISBN-13: 9787510414145

$ 24.00

This book tells the personal stories of more than 20 people living in Tibet. They have different occupations: Soldier, writer, entrepreneur, photographer, painter, scholar, musician, singer, teacher, doctor, balladeer, athlete, and so on. Some of them are young, some of them are old, and some have already passed away. They have lived different lives, but have one thing in common. They all once lived in Tibet and experienced the life and times of the period since the 1950s, an extraordinary period in their history. They not only observed these changes, but also participated in them. These true and touching stories will no doubt open a window for readers who are not familiar with this period of Tibet and are interested in knowing more about it.

This book is the second volume of the series "My Impression of China – China's Image in the Eyes of Foreign Officers." Writers of the articles of the book are all foreign officers from twenty countries in Asia, Africa, South America and Oceania. During their one-year stay in China, besides classroom study, they also had extensive and profound exchanges with Chinese governmental officials, experts and scholars. They went to other regions at different levels of development for visit and investigation. Such experiences of extensive and close contacts with Chinese society enabled them to develop more comprehensive, systematic and deeper understanding of China.
