Manuel da Silva Mendes (1867-1931) foi um dos representantes mais notaveis da intelligentzia portuguesa contemporanea de Macau. Nao e possivel dissocia-lo de uma porfiada intervencao civica e politica, do estudo e da divulgacao do taoismo filosofico, da religiao e arte chinesas, dos trabalhos forenses ou, ainda, das magnas tarefas educativas em que se envolveu como professor.

Global - globalization - is now a key topic and problem not only in history but also other social sciences such as sociology, anthropology, economics and geography. The different and even conflicting meanings attributed to the term in practical language and in the different disciplines of knowledge indicate that, just as happened with Modernities, there are also multiple Globalizations in time and space and going back from the distant past to the present. A full understanding of the global / local / national / international linkages and their implications both in the past and the present requires specific studies that inform us about the demographics and technologies, monetary and market conditions, intellectual and political situations and their connections, transfer and competition. These specific and concrete studies on the faces and phases of the globalizations in China / Macau with all the other Worlds of the World also make a valuable contribution to objectifying and specifying the question of the global. Progress in the studies on globalization entails localization in time and in space and it requires expertise in the research of contact, connection, circulation and integration processes.

O trabalho do professor Dai permite-nos conhecer que a música católica surgiu em Macau, desde os primeiros dias como porto comercial. Um sistema cultural relativamente intacto, que constituiu um dos indícios mais importantes e fundamentais da história da música em Macau. [Este livro] é o resultado inevitável do desenvolvimento da música nos tempos modernos. – Lei Pang Chu (Escritor e ex-diretor de Macao Daily News)

A música católica em Macau, no século XX, é um importante trabalho de pesquisa da antropologia musical. Este trabalho forneceu detalhes relativos à história do intercâmbio musical Sino-Occidental e à história do desenvolvimento da música religiosa. Também nos relembra que o desenvolvimento da música em Hong Kong, Macau e Taiwan é fundamental e indispensável para a história da música chinesa. A pesquisa de Dai expandiu o espólio da história musical da China para as comunidades chinesas no mundo. – Lin Hua (Professor do Conservatório de Música de Shanghai e Compositor)

Steps of Greatness : The Geopolitics of OBOR / Francisco Jose Leandro
Macau: University of Macau, China, 2018

$ 40.00 / HB
712gm.

The book by Francisco Leandro presents a timely and significant contribution to the understanding of this immensely important development. In particular, the study offers distinctive insights in four aspects of OBOR, namely, the multiple dimensions of the OBOR scheme, the security and geopolitical implications of OBOR, China's national interests, and the roles of the Special administrative Regions of Hong Kong and Macao in OBOR. These aspects are closely linked together through a perspective of geopolitics and comprehensive security, thus giving us a refreshing view of OPOR strategy. I am sure the findings will arouse substantial interest among academic scholars as well as policymakers. – Professor Tak/Wing Ngo (University of Macau)
