Anthropology

Shanghai Lalas : Female Tongzhi Communities and Politics in Urban China / Lucetta Yip Lo Kam
Hong Kong: Hong Kong University Press, 2013
x. 142p. ; 23cm.
ISBN-13: 97898888139460
$ 25.00 / PB
244 gm.

This is the first ethnographic study of lala (lesbian, bisexual, and transgender) communities and politics in China, focusing on the city of Shanghai. Based on several years of in-depth interviews, the volume concentrates on lalas' everyday struggle to reconcile same-sex desire with a dominant rhetoric of family harmony and compulsory marriage, all within a culture denying women's active and legitimate sexual agency. Lucetta Yip Lo Kam reads discourses on homophobia in China, including the rhetoric of "Chinese tolerance" and considers the heteronormative demands imposed on tongzhi subjects. She treats "the politics of public correctness" as a newly emerging tongzhi practice developed from the culturally specific, Chinese forms of regulation that inform tongzhi survival strategies and self-identification.

Alternating between Kam's own queer biography and her extensive ethnographic findings, this text offers a contemporary portrait of female tongzhi communities and politics in urban China, making an invaluable contribution to global discussions and international debates on same-sex intimacies, homophobia, coming-out politics, and sexual governance.

Architecture

Harbin to Hanoi : The Colonial Built Environment in Asia, 1840 to 1940 / Laura Victoir and Victor Zatsopine (Editors)

Hong Kong: Hong Kong University Press, 2013

xiii. 281p. ; 23cm.

ISBN-13: 9789888139422

$ 25.00 / PB

482 gm.

Colonial powers in China and northern Vietnam employed the built environment for many purposes: as an expression of imperial aspirations, a manifestation of supremacy, a mission to civilize, a re-creation of a home away from home, or simply as a place to live and work. In this volume, scholars of city planning, architecture, and Asian and imperial history provide a detailed analysis of how colonization worked on different levels, and how it was expressed in stone, iron, and concrete. The process of creating the colonial built environment was multilayered and unpredictable. This book uncovers the regional diversity of the colonial built form found from Harbin to Hanoi, varied experiences of the foreign powers in Asia, flexible interactions between the colonizers and the colonized, and the risks entailed in building and living in these colonies and treaty ports.

$ 188.00

Reform and opening up was a strategic policy decision made by the Chinese Communist Party at the Third Plenary Session of the Eleventh Party Central Committee convened in 1978. It is a basic national policy of the People's Republic of China, and thereafter China entered a new era of reform, opening up, and modernization. Through 30 years of reform and opening up, China identified the path of socialism with Chinese characteristics suited to its own development. After the Cultural Revolution ended in 1976, the Chinese people, under the leadership of the Chinese Communist Party, spent two years exploring a new path for China's modernization. The Third Plenary Session of the Eleventh Party Central Committee marked the formal start of a huge historical turning point when China returned to making economic construction the core task.

During the nineteenth century tens of thousands of Chinese men and women crossed the Pacific to work, trade, and settle in California. Drawn initially by the gold rush, they took with them skills and goods and a view of the world which, though still Chinese, was transformed by their long journeys back and forth. They in turn transformed Hong Kong, their main point of embarkation, from a struggling infant colony into a prosperous international port and the cultural center of a far-ranging Chinese diaspora.

Imperial Contagions : Medicine, Hygiene, and Cultures of Planning in Asia / Robert Peckham and David M. Pomfret (Editors)

Hong Kong: Hong Kong University Press, 2013

xi. 307p. ; 23cm.

ISBN-13: 9789888139521

$ 25.00 / PB

468 gm.

Imperial Contagions complicates common historical narratives portraying a straightforward shift from older, enclavist models of colonial medicine to newer pursuits of prevention and treatment among indigenous populations and European residents. In a series of essays, the volume shows colonial medicine was not a homogeneous, "on the ground" phenomenon but rather a practice rife with tensions and contradictions. Indigenous elites contested and appropriated Western medical knowledge and practices for their own purposes, while colonial policies contained contradictory and cross-cutting impulses. Contributors ultimately challenge the long-standing belief that colonial regimes uniformly regulated indigenous bodies and that colonial medicine served as a "tool of empire."

Law

ARBITRATORS' INSIGHTS: ESSAYS IN HONOUR OF NEIL KAPLAN / General Editor: Chiann Bao, Felix Lautenschlager
Hong Kong : Sweet & Maxwell, 2012
9789626615201
$ 205.00 / HB

Mr Neil Kaplan is one of the world's most eminent international commercial arbitrators. This Liber Amicorum is a rare anthology: a dialogue between leading international arbitrators from around the world. It is a view from the arbitral bench and contains insights from the perspective of the arbitrator. The dialogue is informed by pragmatism and day-to-day experiences. Arbitrators present their cutting-edge arbitral methodology. The way forward and controversial developments are analysed. Mr Kaplan's pioneering role in Hong Kong, now at the forefront of international and Asian arbitration, is highlighted. It will be a welcome addition to any commercial arbitration library.

PERSONAL INJURY TABLES HONG KONG 2013 / Neville SARONY
Hong Kong : Sweet & Maxwell, 2012
9789626615218
$ 144.00 / PB

Personal Injury Tables Hong Kong 2013 contains essential reference information for calculating damages in personal injury and fatal accident cases. This is the only compilation of actuarial and multiplier precedent tables in Hong Kong and has been cited in court. Whilst the use of actuarial tables has not yet been adopted in Hong Kong, this book has tables for the current regime (multiplier precedents) and the prospective one (actuarial).

This popular work has been fully updated and contains a wide range of information. The actuarial tables have been updated to take into account recent Hong Kong mortality projections by the Census and Statistics Department. The quantum of damages table has also been fully updated.

With the issue of how to calculate multipliers before the court right now, this book is more important than ever and is the one resource you'll turn to for evaluating damages!

COMMERCIAL LITIGATION IN HONG KONG, A PRACTICAL GUIDE / William Stone
Hong Kong : Sweet & Maxwell, 2012
9789626614778
$ 330.00 / HB

Commercial litigation is one of the busiest areas of practice in Hong Kong with the commercial court developing its own unique nuances. Commercial Litigation in Hong Kong: A Practical Guide provides an in-depth, comprehensive and practical look at the practice of commercial litigation, with a particular emphasis on pre-emptive remedies, eg. securing the money even before you've commenced proceedings.

The book aims to provide practical guidance upon ensuring success when resolving commercial disputes. The objective recognises that success in commercial matters not only requires a knowledge of black letter commercial law (as well as all its intricacies), but a mastery of all those facets which make up commercial law practice. This book is relevant not only for the practitioner in the Commercial Court but to anyone involved in commercial litigation. It will also be a useful addition to the judge's library.

Commercial Litigation in Hong Kong: A Practical Guide is the comprehensive, "go to" resource on the specialist issues of the Commercial Litigation and should be part of the collection of titles for anyone engaged in commercial disputes. It may provide that vital piece of advice which can make or break a commercial dispute.

THE HONG KONG STOCK AND FUTURES EXCHANGES - LAW AND MICROSTRUCTURE / David C. Donald
Hong Kong : Sweet & Maxwell, 2012
9789626614174
$ 550.00 / HB

The Hong Kong Stock and Futures Exchanges – Law and Microstructure is the first book designed to provide readers with a legal, regulatory and operational insight into the mechanisms for securities trading in Hong Kong. This book opens the "black box" by providing detailed and comprehensive analyses not only of the licensing of exchanges and broker-dealers, but also of the processes and mechanisms for trading, clearing and settling transactions in stock, options, and futures. Further, it benchmarks the state of the Hong Kong market against international regulatory standards and developments in international securities markets. The text also explains the exciting technical and international transformation of the Hong Kong exchanges in recent years and proposes a model for the eventual integration of the Hong Kong securities market into the securities markets of mainland China

TORT LAW IN HONG KONG, THIRD EDITION / Rick GLOFCHESKI
Hong Kong : Sweet & Maxwell, 2012
9789626615041
$ 195.00 / HB

The third edition of Tort Law in Hong Kong continues the aims of previous editions, not only to provide a study text for intending lawyers, but also to provide the most up-to-date and comprehensive resource available for practitioners, academics and judges in the tort law topics under consideration. As with previous editions, the focus is very much on Hong Kong law, holding firm to the belief that the law must be studied and understood in a Hong Kong context, and within the judicial traditions according to which Hong Kong cases are decided and to which lawyers and prospective lawyers must become accustomed.

Changes from the previous edition include a new section on animal liability, an expanded treatment of professional negligence, and an expanded treatment of limitations law, which has been radically altered by decisions here and in the United Kingdom. Sections are also re-arranged, particularly in chapters 3 and 4, to better convey a sense of the subject matter and the linkages with other parts. All chapters have undergone substantial revision in light of case law developments. More than 300 new cases are cited and discussed in this edition.

BUSINESS LAW IN HONG KONG, THIRD EDITION / DK Srivastava
Hong Kong : Sweet & Maxwell, 2012
9789626614112
$ 160.00 / PB

The third edition of Business Law in Hong Kong continues to build on the success of the first two editions proving to be a hugely popular text. It provides an overview of some basic themes relating to law and the legal system in Hong Kong. Individual chapters on subjects such as torts, contracts, company law, the legal systems of Hong Kong and mainland China and e-commerce give readers a sense of the business and social environment in which law operates.

The new edition takes into account recent developments in the law and includes discussions of numerous new cases with new content across all chapters including substantial changes to the chapters on contract law, tort law and agency.

CJR IN THE HIGHER COURTS

In the three years since Civil Justice Reform has come into force, a large volume of civil procedure cases have now reached the appellate courts. In the Wing Fai case – a decision that is being read all over the world, the Court of Final Appeal recently pronounced on dismissal against want of prosecution and Civil Justice Reform.

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION

Developments to alternative dispute resolution continue to gather pace and major legislative reform is expected bringing significant changes to all volumes in the 2013 Service. In addition, the new Mediation Ordinance will be covered in the April 2012 Special Release.

AN ANNUAL SERVICE EQUIPS YOU TO FACE AN EVER DEVELOPING LEGAL ENVIRONMENT WITH CONFIDENCE

The impact of these developments and cases, and the precedential certainty that they create, add to the authority and weight of the 2013 Edition of the Hong Kong White Book. It is the book of the Hong Kong courts – written and reviewed by many esteemed judges and legal practitioners – giving you the weight of authority when referring to it in court.

CIVIL LITIGATION IN HONG KONG, FOURTH EDITION/ Allan Leung, Douglas Clark

Hong Kong : Sweet & Maxwell, 2012

9789626614952

$ 145.00 / PB

Since its first edition, Civil Litigation in Hong Kong has proved to be an unparalleled, practical guide to civil procedure in Hong Kong. Its commentary, checklists and sample documents have been a valuable source of knowledge for law students, trainee solicitors and experienced lawyers.

The fourth edition of Civil Litigation is the first update since the Civil Justice Reforms ("CJR") came into effect in 2009. After nearly a decade of consultation, the CJR has implemented numerous changes to the dispute resolution process in Hong Kong and to the rules of civil procedure. This fourth edition brings readers up to date with the changes under the CJR with the benefit of real experience from practitioners.

In addition to a detailed commentary on the courts' new powers on case management under the CJR, the fourth edition includes an updated chapter on the new Arbitration Ordinance, which came into effect in June 2011. Together with the updated section on mediation, one of the key features of the CJR, Civil Litigation aims to provide a well-rounded guide to dispute resolution in Hong Kong.

THE CONFLICT OF LAWS IN HONG KONG, SECOND EDITION / Graeme JOHNSTON
Hong Kong : Sweet & Maxwell, 2012
9789626614075
$ 400.00 / HB

The Conflict of Laws in Hong Kong, Second Edition is an authoritative and comprehensive guide to the body of law which governs the approach of the Hong Kong civil courts to the determination of governing law, jurisdiction and related issues in cases with a cross-border element (including mainland China and Taiwan as well as foreign countries). The Hong Kong courts' approach was originally based on English law but has diverged significantly as a result of statutory changes, a growing body of Hong Kong case law and even a constitutional interpretation by the National People's Congress. As a result, it can be very hard for even a specialist to work out the precise position under Hong Kong law.

Cosmetic surgery in China has grown rapidly in recent years of dramatic social transition. Facing fierce competition in all spheres of daily life, more and more women consider cosmetic surgery as an investment to gain "beauty capital" to increase opportunities for social and career success.

Building on rich ethnographic data, this book presents the perspectives of women who have undergone cosmetic surgery, illuminating the aspirations behind their choices. The author explores how turbulent economic, socio-cultural and political changes in China since the 1980s have produced immense anxiety that is experienced by women both mentally and physically. This book will appeal to readers who are interested in gender studies, China studies, anthropology and sociology of the body, and cultural studies.
