The early History of the consolidation of Islamic civilization in Bengal is somewhat shrouded in mystery. The book seeks to analyze the early diffusion of Islamic Culture in Bengal using substantially rich and hitherto untapped Arabic and Persian inscriptions scattered all over the region. In addition to deciphering and editing epigraphic texts, their religious transformation in the region has been analyzed in detail. The history of religious transformation in the region has been discussed at length. An important addition to the study of epigraphy.

Based on extensive field investigations as well as analysis of secondary data, Urban Crime and Violence in Dhaka presents the result of a study carried out on urban crime and violence in public places of the metropolis.

It focuses on the types of crimes that occur in it and throws light on the reasons behind the criminal activities that take place in Dhaka.

The book aims to identify the victims as well as the perpetrators of crime and highlights trends and types of crime and violence affecting the people of the city. It reveals the nexus between crime and violence and the socio-economic situation of Dhaka city.
