States of Reform: Governing Selangor and Penang / Tricia Yeoh
Malaysia : Genta Media, 2012
161p.
ISBN: 9789671064863
$ 18.00

This compilation of articles critically examines the policies and programmes of the Pakatan Rakyat state governments in Penang and Selangor from 2008 to 2012. The articles are culled from former Research Officer to the Selangor Menteri Besar Tricia Yeoh's monthly column in the Penang Economic Monthly magazine (now Penang Monthly), also named 'States of Reform'. A rare comparison between two similar states, the book examines the last four years, worth of programmes and efforts, as the yardstick by which Pakatan Rakyat's potential as a future federal government can be measured.

" Apart from the state's financial support via some of these monetary benefits and gifts that we provide, and the boom in state-investments and employment, what people in Selangor and certainly in Malaysia want to see is a country which is democratic, has integrity, and led by a corrupt-free government. A government that is attentive to the people. Saturdays, Sundays and non-office hours, are prime time slots for me to attend various activities and functions. I make it a point to show up so that the people know, that although I have various duties as a member of the ruling state government, I am also with the rakyat and will not neglect the needs of the constituents." – Teresa Kok
