Architecture

The Resilience of Tradition: Malay Allusions in Contemporary Architecture / Shireen Jahn Kassim, Norwina Mohd Nawawi & Noor
Hanita Abdul Majid
Penang : Areca Books, 2017
296p.; 25cm.

In The Resilience of Tradition: Malay Allusions in Contemporary Architecture, the authors attempt to address rhetorical questions like how and to what extent contemporary Malaysian architecture is influenced by Malay culture, values and forms, and in what way is the Malay Modern situated within the discourse of contemporary tropical architecture? Can the evolution of Malay architecture answer the challenge of developing climatically appropriate eco-architecture?

Such questions are being asked in Malaysian universities, and in international conferences looking at modernism, postmodernism, regionalism, tropical architecture, green building and sustainability.

The Resilience of Tradition

The Malay vernacular tradition is essentially a timber-based architectural tradition, and the transposition of such forms and principles onto modern construction and methods using modern materials such as steel, masonry and concrete is not straightforward. Past efforts and innovative strategies which have alluded to cultural traditions merely adopted abstract cultural expressions and remodeled them into modern structures. Malay vernacular architecture is also intrinsically environmentally-conscious, embodying sustainable principles, design ideas and tectonic solutions. Globally, there is growing awareness that culturally-responsive strategies in architecture can be aligned with advancing sustainability standards in buildings and contemporary urban development.

This book compiles attempts by architects and builders so far to respond to two critical agendas – the sustainability agenda and the cultural agenda. In the era of climate change, the challenge facing building professionals and designers in Malaysian and Southeast Asian cities is how to develop and expand sustainability strategies which are culturally rooted in local genius and regional identity.

Law

BULLEN & LEAKE & JACOB'S MALAYSIAN PRECEDENTS OF PLEADINGS /
Nallini Pathmanathan (eds)
Malaysia : Thomson Reuters Malaysia Sdn. Bhd., 2017
9789672049272
$ 207.00 / HB

Recognising that the practice of pleadings lies at the heart of civil procedural law, this home-grown publication presents a comprehensive compendium of precedents and related documents. Bullen & Leake & Jacob's Malaysian Precedents of Pleadings offers authoritative and structured precedents for the drafting of pleadings and other court documents.

Each topic is preceded with a commentary which gives a succinct account of the applicable principles of law and, where relevant, specific guidelines on pleading. The clear understanding of the applicable law afforded by the commentaries greatly enhances the drafting exercise based on the multitude of precedents available in the publication.

Modelled on the highly respected UK Bullen & Leake & Jacob's Precedents of Pleadings, this publication is intended to be the first point of reference for civil practitioners in the drafting of pleadings. It contains the combined expertise of a panel of experienced practitioners across both mainstream and specialist areas of practice.

THE EMPLOYMENT ACT 1955: AN ANNOTATION / S Chandrarajan
Malaysia : Thomson Reuters Malaysia Sdn. Bhd., 2017
9789672049494
$ 70.00 / PB

The Employment Act 1955 is the nation's foremost labour legislation, often referred to by both employers and employees to verify their rights and obligations where labour issues are concerned. Whilst much has been written on our labour laws in general, S Chandrarajan's The Employment Act 1955: An Annotations, is a rarity. Written in a simple and straightforward style, readers will benefit from the thoughts distilled from the author's vast experience in administering the Act whilst in the civil service.

The book deals with the Act and three of its most important related regulations, explaining their objectives and purpose, deliberating on virtually every provision, and providing with clarity the rationale and principle behind each. The author's commentaries on specific provisions are unique, comprehensive and interesting to read. It offers the necessary knowledge for an employer to avoid pitfalls when dealing with employee management within the framework of the Act. It also details the basic information on employee requires to verify his rights and obligations in order to safeguard his interests.

Well written, factual and easily understandable, The Employment Act 1955: An Annotation, is an essential addition to the libraries of employers organisations, an important reference for employees and trade unions, and a necessary companion for students of law especially those wanting to specialise in employment law.

Includes annotations to:

Employment Regulations 1957

Employment (Terminations and Lay-Off Benefits Regulations) 1980

Employment (Part-Time Employees) Regulations 2010

PUBLIC INTERNATIONAL LAW SIMPLIFIED / Hunud Abia Kadouf and Abdulfatai Oladapo Sambo
Malaysia : Thomson Reuters Malaysia Sdn. Bhd., 2017
9789672049425
$ 32.00 / PB

Globalisation is a key agenda in the world today and dealings between and among states, international organisations, non-governmental organisations and transnational corporations multiply by the day. The conduct of the various subjects of the international society in their mutual intercourse is regulated by public international law.

The topic of public international law is complex and involves a multitude of sources, many of which may not be easily understood by the student, layman or beginner. This book serves to provide a simplified account of the legal principles governing public international law. It deals with that body of rules and regulations that govern legal relations between various states and international organisations.

It also provides a quick reference and revision guidance to beginners, particularly those studying the subject. All chapters are written in the most direct and simple language that the general public and the non-professionals, who are interested in the workings of public international law and wish to be equipped with the basic knowledge and principles of the subject, can easily understand.

The authors have drawn upon their wide experience in teaching this subject to prepare this highly readable book which seeks to shed light on and facilitate a quick understanding of the general concepts of public international law. The extensive reference list provide useful signposts for further reading and research where necessary

ESSENTIAL COMPANY LAW IN MALAYSIA: NAVIGATING THE COMPANIES ACT 2016 / Chan Wai Meng
Malaysia : Thomson Reuters Malaysia Sdn. Bhd., 2017
9789672049555
$ 54.00 / PB

Presenting the law in a clear and concise style, this book facilitates a quick understanding of the new Malaysian company law system. Regular reference is made to the provisions of the Companies Act 2016 to enable the reader to appreciate the statutory scheme regulating corporations in Malaysia. Illustrations are used to clarify concepts and cases are cited for reference. Comparison is made with the former scheme under the Companies Act 1965 where relevant and helpful comments are included to aid the analysis of more difficult areas of the law.

JUSTICE ABOVE ALL - SELECTED JUDGMENTS OF TUN ARIFIN BIN
ZAKARIA WITH COMMENTARIES, REVISED EDITION / Justice Zainun Ali
Malaysia : Thomson Reuters Malaysia Sdn. Bhd., 2017
9789672049487
$ 79.00

Justice Above All contains a selection of the judgments of Malaysia's thirteenth Chief Justice, Tun Arifin bin Zakaria, carefully chosen from the many judgments delivered by the distinguished jurist over a wide range of subjects. These judgments are juxtaposed against analytical commentaries prepared by 32 eminent contributors from the legal fraternity, amongst whom include two former Chief Justices of Malaysia and the current Chief Justice of Singapore.

The commentaries include references to related cases, discussion on the legal background relevant to the judgment and the development of the law after the judgment, as well as a review of the application of the judgment in subsequent court decisions.

This unique publication is published in recognition of the vast contributions of Tun Arifin not only to the scholarship of law, but also to the business of the administration of justice. It will no doubt take its rightful place in the history of the development of Malaysian law and should be available for reference in all law firms and libraries.

THE LAW OF COSTS IN CIVIL PROCEEDINGS, 2ND EDITION / Andrew
Chew Peng Hui
Malaysia : Thomson Reuters Malaysia Sdn. Bhd., 2017
9789670915463
$ 188.00

The determination of costs is an important matter for both the lawyer and the client. The Law of Costs in Civil Proceedings is the only book in Malaysia to comprehensively consider this subject in detail. It is written by an experienced court lawyer who is also a prolific writer. Clear analysis of the law provides great value in the book. There are also regular references to relevant statutory provisions and copious citations of cases from various jurisdictions, including Malaysia, England, Singapore and Australia. The wealth of information available will undoubtedly make this book one not to be missed.

NEW IN THIS EDITION:

Updated to cover the provisions of the Rules of Court 2012
Considers new cases which discuss the application of the new court rules
Discusses the new bases of assessment introduced by the Rules of Court 2012
Provides guidance from cases on the exercise of judge's discretion in awarding costs
Extensive reference to cases from Singapore, the UK and Australia which have introduced similar changes in court rules
New chapter on costs for proceedings before the Special Commissioners of Income Tax

GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF CONTRACT LAW, 2ND EDITION / S Santhana
Dass
Malaysia : Thomson Reuters Malaysia Sdn. Bhd., 2017
9789672049234
$ 128.00 / HB

This book serves as a general text covering all aspects of Contract Law, from formation, performance and breach to remedies. Presented in a style that is simple and easily understood, it is particularly useful for a quick grasp of the important principles of Malaysian Contract Law, including the reception of English Law. Detailed treatment is also given to the remedies of specific performance and injunctions.

Fully up-to-date, the text benefits from the mastery of Malaysian Contract Law by an experienced practitioner who has taken pains to elucidate on the intricacies of the Malaysian position. Lawyers, legal advisers, judicial officers, undergraduates, Malaysian Certificate in Legal Practice candidates as well as non-local law graduates who have not had a thorough exposure to Malaysian Contract Law will certainly derive much benefit from the strong foundation provided by this book.

This new edition captures the latest developments in Contract Law, including topics like total failure of consideration, rescission and unfair terms which have seen recent changes and development of new principles.

Key Features:

Adopts a clear structure to enable easy navigation through the text
Statements of law are presented clearly

Supported by statutory provisions as well as local and foreign case authorities (UK, Singapore, India and Australia)

Comprehensive explanation and analysis of the applicable legal principles

This review is intended to be a quick reference, research tool for primary legislative changes between the old Companies Act and the present 2016 Act, which came into force on 31st January 2017. By highlighting the key changes in the legislation, and further providing a section-by-section comparative review, readers are able to easily access all repealed sections, new sections and the parallel provisions of the new Act. The black-letter provisions are supplemented with minor commentary from considerations and decisions behind repeal or addition of provisions.

The Malaysian Judiciary–A Record, 3rd Edition / Tan Sri James Foong
(Author)
Malaysia : Lexis Nexis,2017
9789674007003
$ 180.00 / HB

Old records, recollections and sepia-toned images found in this book bring to life the vibrant history of the Malaysian Judiciary. From the time the British East India Company was granted a Royal Charter to trade in the Malay states, to the establishment of the first magistrate in Penang in 1801, we are taken on a journey of discovery and evolution, before emerging at the foot of the Palace of Justice, the official seat of the Malaysian Judiciary today. This record is a testimony of the pivotal events and key roles played by luminaries past and present, drawn from a myriad of backgrounds and cultures to mould this unique judicial system. Sourced from his private collection of photographs, mementos and conversations with those who experienced the events firsthand, this record is the author's labour of love and passion to retell the story of the Malaysian Judiciary. The first edition of the book was published in 1994 and covered the period from 1786 to 1993, with the second edition published in 2002 extending the record to 2001. In this third edition, the author has revisited all chapters of the book, adding fresh content from further research, additional images, more stories that have never before been published, including several light-hearted recollections of judicial life, as well as several new chapters covering the turbulent times that befell the judiciary before it emerged renewed and strengthened today

Malaysian Court Practice, Rules of Court 2012, Desk Edition 2017
Malaysia : Lexis Nexis,2017
9789674006822
$ 200.00 / HB

The Malaysian Court Practice 2017 Desk Edition - Rules of Court 2012 is compiled from Division I of the looseleaf work of the Malaysia Court Practice (Trial Courts) which comprises in-depth section-by-section commentary of the Rules of Court 2012. It aims to provide Malaysian practitioners with a handy sourcebook to facilitate access or recourse to any authority bearing upon Malaysian civil procedure by collecting all local decisions into a single and completely indexed source and to indicate which English and other precedents have been applied or are of relevance in the trial courts of Malaysia. This 2017 Desk Edition consists of two volumes which carry the provisions of the Rules of Court 2012. Volume 1 contains commentaries of Order 1 – Order 49 and Volume 2 contains commentaries of Order 50 – Order 94 along with Appendices A-C. This publication also provides a comprehensive set of tables and index.

Khaw on Copyright Law in Malaysia, 4th Edition / by Khaw Lake Tee, Tay Pek San
Malaysia : Lexis Nexis,2017
9789674006815
$ 190.00 / HB

This book provides an extensive and in-depth analysis of each component area in copyright law. In each of the areas, the provisions of the Copyright Act 1987 are clearly examined and explained by reference to local case law, where available, and where local cases are lacking, by reference to case law from other jurisdictions. This fourth edition provides an up-to-date analytical commentary of legislative and judicial developments in Malaysian copyright law. In particular, the changes brought about by the Copyright (Amendment) Act 2012 are discussed in detail and, at the same time, judicial decisions expounding on the provisions of the Copyright Act 1987 since the publication of the previous edition are analysed. In some parts, this entailed re-evaluation of existing commentaries and consequent revision to the relevant parts. As a result of the impact of modern computing technology on copyright law, this fourth edition incorporates a separate chapter on Copyright and the Internet, particularly since the jurisprudence in this area of the law is at a fledgling state in this country.
