Architecture

Old City New World: Indonesia - Shanghai / Joyce Lee, Jaime Yeo & Lam Yishan (Editors)
Singapore: AA Asia, 2011
232p. ; 21cm.
ISBN-13: 9789814022767
1. Architecture – Indonesia
2. Architecture – China – Shanghai
AA Asia Monograph 10
$ 15.00

Old City New World presents both the traditional and cultural charms of Indonesian cities, and the ambitious aspirations of the ultra modern city of Shanghai. AA Asia's tenth monograph demonstrates how a society's cultural roots are the significant foundations for new and evolving contemporary forms, and underscores the equal importance of a society's global ambitions. Old City New World is a travelogue and a collection of essays from various contributors that offers insights on the culture and architecture of these two Asian societies.

Blame it on the Raging Hormones / Nathan Goh
Singapore: Wham Bam, 2010
195p. ; 21cm.
ISBN-13: 9789810864057
$ 16.00

This coming-of-age memoir of an ordinary boy, in the form of an online journal, is brutally honest, endearing, poignant and raw. Nicky, an insecure youth with a fat past, goes on a journey of love and self-discovery and soon crashes into an underworld of sex, drugs and betrayal. After a series of failed romances, he heads for a breakdown, especially when his three friends, Dexter, Daniel and Dave, the Triple Ds, who support and guide him, have problems of their own and cannot help him. Can Nicky survive the cruel gay world of superficialities? Will he ever find true love? Is that the solution to all his problems?

$ 42.90 (HB)

$ 32.90 (PB)

This book incorporates a selection of eight revised papers presented at the Conference on "Managing Economic Crisis in Southeast Asia", organized jointly by the Saw Centre for Financial Studies, NUS Business School and the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies, in January 2010. The chapters deal with the management of the 2008-09 economic crisis in Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand, Vietnam, the Philippines, Indonesia, and the region as a whole. They represent an analysis of the impact of the economic crisis and the stimulus packages that were swiftly put in place by the governments to mitigate the economic recession and to pave the way for a quick recovery. The success of the monetary and fiscal policy measures in engendering a strong economic recovery in these countries is also discussed in considerable depth. The book, with contributions from experts on the topics covered, will be extremely valuable to businessmen, analysts, academics, students, policy-makers and the general public interested in seeking a greater understanding of the sub-prime crisis that led to the global economic recession.

The Gulf Cooperation Council: A Rising Power and Lessons for ASEAN / Linda Low & Lorraine Carlos Salazar

Singapore: ISEAS Publishing, 2011

viii. 60p. ; 21cm.

ISBN-13: 9789814311403

1. Gulf Cooperation Council
2. Persian Gulf Region – Economic integration

$ 16.90

The Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) is comprised of Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates. Possessing a significant share of the world's oil and gas reserves and including some of the world's fastest growing economies, the GCC is a significant regional grouping. As with the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN), the Council has made significant progress towards economic integration. Seeking to draw out lessons applicable to ASEAN, this report looks at the structure and evolution of the GCC. This includes the context within which the Council was established, its rationale, and economic importance. It then follows the organization's development over time, paying particular importance to its progress from Customs Union and Common Market towards Monetary Union. The report then sets out the key challenges ahead for the Council, and concludes by highlighting the structural, organizational, and political lessons that resonate with ASEAN and its membership.

Economic Growth and Transition: Econometric Analysis of Lim's S-Curve Hypothesis / Sng Hui Ying

Singapore: World Scientific Publishing Co. Pte. Ltd., 2010

xvii. 130p. ; 24cm.

ISBN-13: 9789814291835 (HB)

Economic Growth Centre Research Monograph Series – Vol. 1

$ 85.00

This book is the first of its kind to systematically analyze and apply Lim Chong Yah's S-Curve Hypothesis to the various facets of economic growth and economic transition. By augmenting the mathematical and economical sophistication of the hypothesis, this book extends the S-Curve hypothesis to provide further insight into economic growth and transition.

It also utilizes a construction of a stochastic growth model to provide the microeconomic foundation for the S-Curve hypothesis. This model resolves the puzzle of why some developing countries experience economic take-off, while others do not. The book analyzes and extends discussion on the S-Curve, and also applies the S-Curve hypothesis to predict long-term growth in Japan and Singapore. It serves as an excellent resource for people interested in Lim's growth theory.

Economic Diplomacy: Essays and Reflections by Singapore's Negotiators / C L Lim & Margaret Liang

Singapore: World Scientific Publishing Co. Pte. Ltd., 2010

xxvi. 316p. ; 24cm.

ISBN-13: 9789814324632 (HB)

1. Singapore – Foreign economic relations

2. Diplomacy – History

$ 88.00

Singapore, a small Southeast Asian country with limited resources, transformed itself from a trading post to a successful, cosmopolitan nation with one of the most impressive growth rates in the world. Less well known, however, has been its role in regional and global trade negotiations. This book is a collection of sixteen essays written by a group of diplomats, policy-makers, and professors who became involved in international economic affairs, notably in GATT/WTO, regional and bilateral free trade negotiations. Here, they reveal their thoughts about the world economy and trading system, reflect on their experiences, and explain how they promoted national interests while advancing the global trade agenda. This book will appeal not only to professional diplomats, but to anyone interested in how international economic diplomacy works and Singapore's role and perspective as an open trading nation.

Regionalism in East Asia: Why Has It Flourished Since 2000 and How Far Will It Go? /

Richard Pomfret

Singapore: World Scientific Publishing Co. Pte. Ltd., 2011

xviii. 183p. ; 23cm.

ISBN-13: 9789814304320 (HB)

$ 78.00

This book examines an important economic development in East Asia during the first decade of the 21st century. Whereas regional arrangements were, with the sole significant exception of ASEAN, conspicuously absent before 2000, they have proliferated since 2000 in both the monetary and trade areas. The book places this political development in the changing nature of the national economies, especially their increasing integration into regional and global value chains with the fragmentation of production processes. This is a freshly written, coherent analysis of the topic, drawing upon (updated) material from a series of articles that the author has published on the subject over the years. Although the book is based on theoretical and, especially, empirical analysis of regionalism, it is written in a non-technical style accessible to a wide range of readers. The book is likely to be adopted as supplementary reading for university courses on Asian economies, whether be it in area studies or economics/political economy disciplines.

Economics of Rivalry, Conflict and Cooperation / Partha Gangopadhyay
Singapore: World Scientific Publishing Co. Pte. Ltd., 2011
xii. 366p. ; 23cm.
ISBN-13: 9789814289832 (HB)
$ 111.00

This book offers an extensive and original study of the dynamics of rivalry, evolution of costly and violent conflicts, and potential cooperation among powerful players. It unravels the special features of the global socio-economic system that can make it extremely fragile and vulnerable. It serves as a good reference source for anyone interested in some of the pressing and emerging problems of the global system, such as intra-national and interethnic conflicts, climate change challenges, poverty and terrorism, and provides useful and rigorous insights into the collective bid to resolve some of these problems. Written in a simple and accessible manner, this book will help researchers and policy makers in understanding and abetting costly conflicts.

Energy Conservation in East Asia: Towards Greater Energy Security / Elspeth Thomson, Youngho Chang, Jae-Seung Lee (Eds)
Singapore : World Scientific, 2011
Xviii, 391p.
Includes Index
978-981-277-177-3
World Scientific Series on Energy and Resource Economics – Vol.8.
$ 135.00

As East and Southeast Asia continue to modernize and urbanize, their demand for energy will soar. Besides seeking to import fossil fuels from the Middle East, Africa, the Caspian Region, Russia, Latin America, Australia, etc., it is imperative for these Asian countries to cooperate in substantially raising the efficiency with which energy is consumed. This book offers a comprehensive examination of East and Southeast Asia's energy conservation policies. It begins with a summary of the current and projected energy supply and demand patterns in the region, and a discussion about the need and basis for cooperation in energy conservation. This is followed by an examination of the energy conservation policies and progress to date in seven ASEAN countries and in China, Japan and Korea.

Private Lives: An Expose of Singapore's Freshwaters / Darren C. J. Yeo, Wang Luan Keng & Kelvin K. P. Lim (Editors)

Singapore: The Raffles Museum of Biodiversity Research, Faculty of Science, National University of Singapore, 2010

258p. ; 21cm.

ISBN-13: 9789810864484

$ 22.00

The freshwater realm in Singapore is surprising rich; despite the small size of the island, over a century of human impacts and a host of other problems. While clean drinking water is an important national concern; the stream, swamps, waterways and reservoirs in Singapore nevertheless also contain many native species of plants and animals that represent the original natural heritage of the island. In the third part of this series, the "Private Lives" of the denizens of Singapore's waterways – both native and non-native, are examined; and the many challenges facing this key ecosystem are discussed.

1. Singapore fiction (English)
$ 21.00

Miss Maria Seetoh, a teacher of English and Literature in St. Peter's Secondary School in Singapore, sees herself as a 'simple soul who only wants to be a good and happy person', and has a dream to write stories about 'simple, ordinary people going about their daily lives'. However, God/Providence/Fate/Chance, etc. decrees otherwise. She is thrown into the tumult of a disastrous marriage that begins as strangely as it ends, a failed love affair that 'hollows her out', and a controversial teaching career that ends with her abrupt resignation. Most of all, she is caught in a political event as shocking in its causes as in its consequences.

Lee Kuan Yew is Singapore's most influential son but he is not without his critics. He has not flinched from taking them on, even now after almost 60 years in the political fray. Why is he so hard on his political opponents? Will Singapore become a democracy? Could the People's Action Party ever lose its grip on power? Are younger leaders up to the mark? Will growing religiosity change Singapore for the better or worse? How will rising giants China and India affect its fortunes? Lee fields these questions and more as he covers the terrain of the past and contemplates the expanse of the future for this island nation that he and his founding generation built on the hopes of a people. Based on 32 hours of interviews at the Istana, along with 64 pages of photographs and a DVD insert, the book features Lee in full flow, combative, thought-provoking, controversial

“Our Very Own” is an inspiring collection of true stories. Honest, heartfelt and reflective, these stories give readers poignant glimpses of the raw emotions which the adoptive parents go through – unbearable pain, fears, anxieties, feelings of longing and despair – while celebrating their journey of unconditional love, courage, fulfilled dreams, hope and self-discovery. The book also addresses practical adoption issues like making a decision on adoption, the adoption process, and ways to care for adopted children. A first-of-its-kind in Singapore, “Our Very Own” is a vital resource book for adoptive parents and for service providers working in the area of adoption.

DIS(CLOSURE) tells a real story of a young gay man arriving in Singapore in search of a better life. In a society where everything is restricted and organized, he found himself entangled with strangers, stalkers, sex and superstition. He lost the ability to trust; he began to develop deep misgivings about the people around him. He was being watched everywhere he went – he was the target of endless surveillance; more metaphorically, he lived in a state of surveillance ...
