Wetlands in a City : The Sungei Buloh Wetland Reserve / Chua Ee Kiam
Simply Green, Singapore 2010

176p. ; 27cm.
9789814270243
$ 34.55 / HB
1090 gm.

The Sungei Buloh Wetland Reserve is perhaps not widely known but since 1989 it has been a safe haven for several species of migratory birds as well as a habitat for mangroves and many species of swamp dwellers. Outstanding photographs are on every page. An account is given of the difficult beginnings of the Reserve, the policies which underlie it, and the need for meticulous management to promote eco-balance. The photographs indicate what wonders the patient visitor may see from the boardwalks and viewing posts. Some of the urgent challenges which face the Reserve are outlined and its educational and international roles are noted.
