Report on labour force survey 2018 / General Statistics Office

Thong Ke, Vietnam 2020

238p.; 20.5 x 29

9786045712461

$ 65.00 / HB

The aim of the survey was to collect information on the labour market participation in 2018 for those aged 15 and above who are currently residing in Viet Nam. This was a basis for integrating and compiling national indicators on labour, employment, unemployment and earning of labour force. As a result, the information would support officials at all branched and levels in evaluating and forecast the changes in labour market among quarters in the years as well as with the previous annual labour force surveys conducted by GSO. This was also a basis fo developing and making policies on human resource development and plans for investment, production and business in accordance with the development trend of labour market. In addition, with the technical support of international labour organisation (ILO), the labour force survey 2018 has applied recommendations of ILO on labour and employment, as the basis for study and complete survey content of next years.

Into 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic caused the real estate market has to be revised mainly because of a decline in both supply and demand with a presence of defensive psychology. The real estate market has been segmented, large-sized companies with strong financial resources are able to keep the market and even have development opportunities, but medium-sized and small-sized companies face many difficulties; many enterprises have to close due to no work and no workforce. It can be said that the COVID-19 pandemic has created a very clear differentiation, or in other words, this is the market definement such as "fire proves gold". The Report focuses on analyzing the developments and performance results of the Real Estate - Construction industry in the 2019-2020 period, making forecasts on the industry prospects in the next period, providing assessments and views from enterprises, customers and industry experts.-

Chiến lược kinh tế Việt Nam 2020: Doanh nghiệp Việt Nam và chiến lược vươn lên trong thời kỳ bình thường mới / Vietnam Report

Hong Duc, Vietnam 2020

9786043023886

$ 70.00 / HB

COVID-19 is not only a pandemic but also a humanitarian challenge with a long-term impact on the way we live, work and play. In just a few weeks, people's lives were really turned upside down in ways unimaginable. The world, which had been busy with business activities, has now moved into a "quieter" world with limited tourism, closed offices and home-based work. Social distancing has directly changed the way people live and interact with each other. This is also creating an unprecedented crisis in many different economic sectors. Not only the difficulties and challenges are in the medium term, the longer the crisis lasts, the more profound and long-term changes we will notice in consumer behavior. The report focuses on analyzing the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the Vietnamese business community in key sectors, providing strategic suggestions to help business overcome difficulties and rebuild brand in the new normal era. It will be a useful reference for the Vietnamese business community and the general audience.
